

Boneham & Turner Ethics Policy

This policy has been created to provide a framework and guidance on the company's approach to achieving and maintaining good business behaviour by means of sound ethical conduct. It serves to ensure that all employees are aware of their individual and collective responsibilities with regards to the company's ethics, and to emphasise our employees' and customers' expectations to being treated fairly and in accordance with good business practises.

All employees are responsible for reading this document in its entirety and for ensuring that they comply with all the policy requirements as stated within this document.

The purpose of this ethics policy is to maintain a culture of openness, trust and integrity in the company's business practises. Effective ethics is a 'team effort' involving the participation and support of every Boneham & Turner employee.

Company's commitment to Ethics

- To hold paramount the safety, health and welfare of the public in the performance of the company's professional duties
- To keep the local communities informed about issues which may affect them
- To collaborate with and support partners in carrying out the company's mission and in line with the company's ethics policy
- To build professional reputations on the merit of our capabilities and refrain from competing unfairly with others
- Not to engage in any business practise or process or with any entity, including potential customers, that does not match the Company's ethical standards and the companies Anti-Bribery Policy.

Employee's commitment to Ethics:

- To disclose any conflicts of interests regarding their position with the company
- To engage in carrying out the company's mission in a professional manner and in line with the core values of the company which includes integrity
- To recognise that the main function of the company is at all times to serve the best interests of its current and future customers, and to do this with respect, concern, courtesy and responsiveness
- To treat everyone fairly, have mutual respect, promote a team environment and avoid the intent and appearance of unethical or compromising practises, see section 17.3 of the Company Handbook.
- To treat all persons with respect and consideration, regardless of race, religion, gender, sexual orientation, maternity, marital or family status, disability, age or national origin
- To respect the structure and responsibilities of management, provide them with facts and advice as a basis for decision and policy making, and uphold and implement decisions and policies adopted by management
- To demonstrate the highest standards of personal integrity, truthfulness and honesty in all activities in order to inspire confidence and trust in such activities, both internally and externally, in line with my role and requests made by Superiors. To not do so, could result in disciplinary action being taken
- To strive for personal and professional excellence, encourage the professional development of others and keep up to date on emerging issues affecting the Company
- To conduct themselves at all times with professional competence, fairness and impartiality

Should an employee be in any doubt about a relevant course of action, require clarification on a particular issue, or want to report a potential breach of Boneham & Turners ethical code, they should report directly to their line manager/Director. The topic/issue will then be dealt with as quickly and efficiently as possible, and by the Managing Director if appropriate.

This policy will be reviewed annually to ensure that it remains relevant, both internally with all employees and externally regarding changing social and moral attitudes and business best practise.
